C.W. CUMMINGS COMMITS SUICIDE

HOPKINS MAN SAID TO WORRY OVER MARITAL TROUBLE.

DIVORCED ONE WIFE MARRIED ANOTHER

Was Foreman of Burlington Section Gang—Found by Worker Near Railroad Bridge.

C. W. Cummings, foreman of the Burlington section gang at Hopkins, committed suicide between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning at the railroad bridge that crosses the 102 river one-half mile north of the Burlington station. He shot himself through the heart with a 22-caliber rifle.

Mr. Cummings started up the track on his way to work and passed the section house, where the rest of the men were working. Twenty minutes later one of the section hands passing the same way saw Mr. Cummings lying on the ground, and going over to investigate he found him dead.

The cause of the suicide is thought to be marital troubles. Mr. Cummings divorced his first wife last year and married his second wife about three months ago. The child of his first marriage, a little boy of about three years, lives at Marshall with its mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Whitten. It is said that Mr. Cummings wanted the child, but so far had been unable to get it.

Before the divorce suit, which was filed in September, 1915, Mr. Cummings filed suit for $10,000 against William Louden for alienation of his wife's affections. This suit was dismissed before the divorce proceedings came up, and Mr. Cummings then divorced his wife. The child has lived with Mrs. Cummings' parents since that time. Mrs. Cummings (No. 1) came to Hopkins to visit from Creston, Ia., but it is not known whether this visit had anything to do with the suicide.

Besides his second wife Mr. Cummings has a sister, Mrs. Lo Hopple, who lives in Hopkins.

O. H. Sayler took charge of the body. No funeral arrangements have been made.

FOR CLEAN-UP DAY

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT URGES RURAL SCHOOLS TO SET DATE.

SUGGESTS AUGUST 26

Give Advice for Purchase of Supplies and Sanitary Furnishings, Grateful for Co-Operation.

County Superintendent of Schools Bert Cooper has sent out letters to the board of education of each rural school district in the county suggesting that the rural schools open Monday, September 4; that each school institute a general "clean-up" day on August 26.

In his letter Prof. Cooper says:

"I recommend that you have your school open Monday, Sept. 4, 1916. In order that all pupils be prepared for the examinations it is important that they follow the course of study with uniformity, which necessitates beginning at the same time.

"I suggest that Aug. 26 be observed as a general "clean-up" day. The board should do all repairing of the building, outbuildings, papering and painting. The yard should be mowed and the well cleaned. Why not invite your teacher to be present, get acpainted and make "clean-up" day a regular picnic?

"In regard to supplies, a good drinking jar with a faucet should be provided. Reasonable rates are quoted by A. Flanagan & Co., Chicago, if your dealer cannot furnish them. I hope, too, that your school can install a modern heating and ventilating system this year, if you do not already have one.

"Please do not order books and supplies from agents. Have your teacher order them at a saving of 50 to 75 per cent.

I wish to thank you for your co-operation during the past year, and I am expecting even larger results this year. Since you are as anxious as I am for a good school, I feel sure that we shall make progress in the work."

14 MEMBERS RETURN FROM ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT AT K. C.

MOST SUCCESSFUL YET

Verlon Manley Overcome by Heat During Drill — Maryville Team Fails to Qualify for Prizes.

Nearly all of the fourteen members of the Woodmen Drill Team who went to Kansas City to attend the annual encampment August 7-12, have returned to Maryville and report a fine time.

The number of the Woodmen who took part in the encampment which was held at Fairmount Park, was 380. During the six days the men followed the plan of a regular military encampment, rising at sound of the bugle, having "mess" just like the soldiers, and doing guard duty for so many hours each day.

A part of the time was taken up with exhibition and competitive drills. In the competitive drills the Webb City and Springfield companies won first places, and will receive as prizes free trips to the national encampment next year. Only two other companies, those from Ash Grove and Fairplay, were entered in the contest. The Maryville team practiced and had the uniforms, but were unable to qualify because of lack of numbers. The number required is sixteen members, and at the time of the drilling the home team was able to muster only twelve men.

During the drilling Wednesday afternoon, Verlon Manley was overcome by the heat and was treated by the physician at the medical tent. He recovered quickly and was able to be about in a few hours.

In the evening the men were allowed to leave the encampment and visit the various places of amusement in the city. They were compelled to be in by 11 o'clock or else they were arrested and thrown in the guard house. In spite of the military rules, however, the Woodmen were given enough free time to enjoy themselves. The encampment was pronounced the most successful that has ever been held.

Those who attended from Maryville were:

George P. Sillers, captain; James Cummings, sergeant; Less Woodard, corporal; Frank Murray, corporal; A. A. Robey, corporal; Robert Garten, corporal; Lee O'Grady, Verlon Manley, Leslie Rogers, Harry Scarborough, Vany Murphy, Wilford White, Roy Martin, quartermaster sergeant, and John Bithos.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGES

Italians, Austrians and Russians Keep Up Vigorous Attacks on All Lines.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Aug. 14.—Great activity is reported today on all the war fronts in official dispatches. The British and Germans are in a battle on the Somme front and a London report admits that violent counter attacks have enabled the Germans to occupy some of the trenches north of Pozieres, captured by the British Sunday. Reports say that there are no other important changes.

An Italian report says that they have progress further east of Gorizia and have captured Austrian trenches. Austrian attacks on other parts were repulsed. At the northern end of Isonzo the Italians penetrated the suburbs of Tolmino and the southern flank of Von Bothermer's army, which was withdrawn ten miles from Strypa, is being vigorously attacked in the Haliez section.

According to a dispatch from the Russians, Petrograd also reports that they have advanced all along the line of the Balkan front, and the Allies are reported to have captured several fortified villages in the region of Doiran.

WILSON CONFERS WITH LABOR HEADS

OFFICIAL CIRCLES HOPE THAT PRES. WILL MAKE PEACE.

JOINT CONFERENCE IS EXPECTED TODAY

Leaders Refused Arbitration Because They Had no Faith in It, According to Report.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Wilson went into a conference with the union labor leaders at 10:20 o'clock this morning and until 11:55 discussed the general situation with them. At the conclusion of the meeting the president announced that he would meet the railroad managers at 3 o'cloc kthis afternoon.

When the conference broke up A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the labor leaders, said that any statement must come from the president.

A definite hope that the president will be able to propose a basis of settlement of differences was expressed in official circles following the conference, and it is believed the president has a definite proposition to submit to the railroad managers. Until after the meeting with the managers it is announced the president will make no statement of what transpired.

It is hoped by the president and advisers that a joint conference can be arranged late today of the employes and railroad managers.

It is reported that the labor leaders told the president they refused arbitration because they didn't believe the importance of their demands would be realized by arbitration. The president insisted that under no circumstances would the public sanction the strike and that the cause of labor would be injured. The president, it is said, will make plain to the railroad managers that their responsibility is equally as great as the employes, and that he is determined to prevent the strike at any cost.

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Wilson today personally assumed charge in an effort to prevent the railroad strike. He cancelled all other engagements and notified the representatives, who came from New York, that he was ready to see them. The president first conferred with the employes.

As a result of yesterday's developments in the dispute over the men's demands for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime, the controversy was taken up by the president, at his invitation. The workers flatly rejected any form of arbitration. They refused mediation.

A general strike on virtually all the railroads of the nation, paralyzing commerce and throwing approximately two million men out of employment, can be averted only through the good offices of President Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corwin returned last evening from a two weeks' visit at Reserve, Wis. Their daughter, Miss May Corwin, will remain for a longer visit.

Frank Reavis returned yesterday from Parnell, where he spent a few days on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thummel.

BIG DAIRY EXHIBIT AT FAIR.

Big Dairy Show Will Be a Feature at in Sedalia—Entries Close September 9.

Dairying is fast coming in rank with the other great wealth-producing industries of Missouri. Every year the cow, the money-maker and money-saver of the farm, grows into greater popularity. Some of the evidences of this growth are the number of cream cans at the railroad depots and the high prices that the dairy cattle are commanding.

But the surest sign of this development will be the big dairy exhibit at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, September 23 to 30, this year. The Missouri Fair comes the week between the Southwestern Dairy Show at Kansas City and the National Dairy Show at Waterloo, Iowa, and many of the splendid show herds that are entered in these shows will be seen at Sedalia.

This year two new classes, for Ayrshire and the Guernsey cattle have been added to the premium list. There will also be many special awards for all classes and the attractive premiums insures extensive exhibits of all breeds.

Not only will the exhibitors have a chance at the big prize money, but they will also come in contact with many prospective buyers of pure breed cattle of all sorts. Many large sales have resulted from the breeders having their herds on display at the Missouri State Fair. The entries in this department close September 9, and all who contemplate showing their herds at Sedalia will do well to get their entries in as soon as possible.

LOCUST TO REAPPEAR SOON

But Old Mine Pest Will Be Harmless, Says Prof. Leonard Haseman of the M. S. U.

The 13-year-old locust is due to re-appear in Missouri between now and 1920. However, there is not fear to be held of its ravages, for it is entirely harmless, according to Prof. Leonard Haseman of the college of agriculture of the University of Missouri. The locust, he says, is too ill-supplied with chances for long life underground now to allow it to develop in sufficient numbers to be dangerous.

The peculiarity of the locust, Dr. Haseman points out, in his bulletin, "The Periodical Cicada," is its long life underground. The insect is hatched out and at once takes its place on the root of a tree. There it stays for thirteen or seventeen years, depending upon to which of the two varieties it belongs. It comes out then, sheds its old shell, and flies out for a few weeks of active life to reproduce its kind.

The locust lives on sap sucked from the roots of the plant or tree to which it fastens itself while living underground. Its feeding on the plant is scarcely noticeable, for it eats so slowly that it deprives the plant of little food. While in its few weeks of active life it eats barely enough to keep it alive, because it is busy with its duty of reproduction. Only immense swarms can eat enough to affect crops appreciably.

The enemies of locusts are birds, some mamals, mites and fungus diseases. The plow, the ax and the English sparrow, with coming of civilization, have been its worst enemies. In sections cleared more than seventeen years the locust has not been able to find enough food to support any large drove of its young.

PUBLICITY AND PARKS

SEC. OF INTERIOR WOULD RESERVE PLAYGROUND FOR NATION.

Says a Summer Spent in Yellowstone National Park Would Make a Better Citizen of a Man.

Franklin M. Lane, Secretary of the Department of the Interior, believes in publicity and parks.

He believes in reserving national playgrounds for national use, and getting the people to use them.

He believes that a week, or a month or a summer spent in such a place, for instance, as Yellowstone National Park, is bound to make a better citizen of a man, physically, mentally and morally.

And better citizenship is one of the things that the Secretary of the Interior is after.

So his department is getting out books making people want to go to places like Yellowstone Park.

The Yellowstone book is a remarkably good 24-page example of planning and printing, containing some excellently well done half tones of unusually good photographs, and just enough live, simple, sincere printed matter to make you feel humanly acquainted with the Park, and with Secretary Lane, and to make you want to know them both better.

The sole purpose of this book being to get people to go to Yellowstone Park, Secretay Lane has permitted the railrads which carry people to the Park to publish reprints for distribution. The Union Pacific system, which carried two-thirds of all the visitors to Yellowstone Park last season, according to Government figures, has already sent out thousands of the booklets into the hands of people who have enough interest to write in to any of their offices and ask for it. This distribution, of course, is entirely free. There have been longer books printed about Yellowstone Park and more elaborate books, but possibly never one that told you so much in such a pleasantly unassuming way.

One purpose of the book is to get people out of the idea that the Yellowstone Park is a big show which may be satisfactorily galloped through in five days of sightseeing. "If you want to enjoy your Yellowstone, if, indeed, you want even to see it, you should make your minimum twice five days; two weeks is better; a month is ideal. * * * Yellowstone National Park is ideal for camping out. When people realize this it should quickly become the most lived in, as it already is one of the most livable, of our national parks. Remember that the Yellowstone is yours."

Conception Man Arrested in St. Joseph for Theft of Own Automobile.

F. Lynch of Conception had the novel experience last night of being arrested for stealing his own automobile, says the Sunday St. Joseph Gazette. Lynch is visiting his brother, J. C. Lynch, 188 South Ninth street, and has been keeping his automobile in his brother's garage. Last night about 10:30 o'clock firemen at Ninth street and Doniphan avenue saw three men rush up to the garage in the rear of the Lynch home, roll the machine to the street and start away at full speed. They notified central police station. Cycle Officer John Frank was ordered out to run down the supposed thieves. Frank took the direction said to have been taken by the automobile thieves and overhauled them just south of the city on the Sparta road. Lynch insisted that the automoble belonged to him, but the cycle officer was not satisfied until he had brought Lynch and the two men with him back to the fire station, where he was identified by his brother, who also had been aroused by the firemen.

Too Previous.

A fat, middle aged widower took a young girl graduate's hand in his and said timidly:

"Your mother, my dear Alice, has given her consent, and I"—

But the girl snatched her hand away.

"No," she said. "It can never be. My respect for you is great, Mr. Prendergast, and I will be a sister to you."

"No, you won't, either. You'll be a daughter to me. I'm going to marry your mother."—Washington Star.

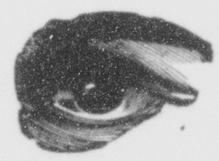
THE NORMAL EYE
And Some Of Its Defects



THE Normal Eye is nearly spherical in form, with a uniformly curved lens, perfectly balanced muscles and a delicate nerve—all in good working order. The normal eye adapts itself to all conditions of light and focuses instantly for all distances. A normal pair of eyes are identical with one another and work in absolute unison and harmony.

DEFECTIVE EYES

When the eye is not spherical, but elongated or flattened, or when the crystaline lens is thicker on one side than on the other, there is bound to be a defect in the vision. Or when the delicately poised muscles become weakened through strain or overwork then serious trouble impends.

CHANGING VISION

But even normal eyes are subject to a gradual change at about the age of forty and require the aid of glasses. This is due to a hardening of the crystaline lenses so that they do not focus as readily as in youth. Loss of vitality or sickness hastens this change materially.

1,746 ALIENS CAME

TO MISSOURI DURING THE PAST YEAR, SAYS REPORT.

THE WAR IS THE CAUSE

Labor Commissioner Fitzpatrick Sees Higher Wages as Result—New Low Mark in Immigration.

(By A. T. Edmonston).
Special to the Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 14.—Whatever increase in population Missouri experienced during the fiscal year which closed June 30, 1916, it can be positively stated that very little was due to immigration from European countries during those twelve months, announces a bulletin of the Bureau of Labor Statitics, which Commissioner John T. Fitzpatrick released for publication. From July 1, 1915, to the same day of 1916 only 171,746 alien men, women and children passed through United States seaports with Missouri as their direct destination. This influx is the minimum for ten years and when compared with the record year of the last decade, 1906-1907, is less than one-tenth of the immigration than when 17,550 foreigners selected this state for their future home.

When the 1914-1915 fiscal year came to a close on July 1, 1915, with only 2,743 immigrants credited to Missouri, it was thought the minimum limit to immigration had been reached, but the war continued and now comes the figures of 1915-1916, which show a further decrease of nearly a thousand.

That the European war is wholly to blame for the decrease in Missouri immigration is indicated by that during the fiscal year which closed June 30, 1914, just before this titanic conflict broke out, 13,381 aliens registered at United States seaports that it was their intention to locate in Missouri. Had Germans, Austrians, English, Irish, French and Belgians been as free to leave their countries after the outbreak of the war as before the influx figures for the fiscal year 1914-1915 and 1915-1916 would have been larger. This assertion is based upon the yearly arrivals of aliens into Missouri since 1906, which information is reproduced for comparative purposes, to show how for two years the war has kept foreigners at home. During 1905-6 the Missouri influx was 17,550 men, women and children; 1906-07, 19,320; 1907-08, 12,107; 1908-09, 9,495; 1909-10, 12,745; 1910-11, 12,029; 1911-12, 9,852; 1912-13, 11,504; 1913-14, 13,381; and 1914-15, the first year of the war, 2,783, a total for these ten years of 121,127 immigrants.

It is probably interesting to know just how many emigrant aliens who never become citizens of this country returned to their native land during the fiscal year 1915-1916, the exodus from Missouri being 1,420, an increase over the previous fiscal year which closed June 30, 1915, when only 657 flocked back, most of them probably to take part in the European struggle.

The above facts and figures only pertain to Missouri, but the same falling off in emigration is shown in other states. The total immigration into the United States in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1916, was, approximately, only one-tenth of the influx of the record year of the last decade. What the close of the war will bring to this country, including Missouri, in further immigration remains to be seen. The demand for able-bodied men will be so great in France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Great Britain and Russia that extra inducements will undoubtedly be offered by those governments to retain the inhabitants at home for reconstruction purposes and to bring back prosperity.

The opportunities and environments offered workingmen in Europe then will be far better than has been the case for several generations, states the Bureau of Labor Statistics bulletin, and therefore citizens of this country, including Missouri, will probably not have to meet the problem of a market over-burdened with cheap labor for many years to come. Wages here and the lot of workingmen who toil manually will be far better than has been the case for twenty years before the outbreak of the European war. The European demand for skilled and unskilled labor will probably be so great that many sons of Italy, Great Britain, Germany, France and other countries involved in the present life and death struggle will rush back there and reap the harvest soon through the deaths of the brothers, cousins and other male relatives they left behind.

In a few weeks a Missouri Bureau of Labor Statistics bulletin will announce from which countries the 1915-16 immigrants hailed and what their occupations are, information which will tell how useful these alien men, women and children are to Missouri.

Celebrated Marksmen Guests of the Maryville Gun Club Here Yesterday—Good Scores Made.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Topperwein, the celebrated marksmen, gave an exhibition of expert and fancy shooting at the grounds of the Maryville Gun club, yesterday afternoon before a good crowd. Mr. Topperwein is the acknowledged dean of fancy and trick shots, and his many feats are of a highly sensational character.

At the trap the following scores were made:

Mrs. Topperwein	95x100
Charles G. Spencer	123x126
W. A. Tindall	48x 50
B. R. Embree	28x 50
James Smith	42x 50
John Touhey	35x 50
C. Sweitzer	18x 25
Steve Viles	23x 30
Fleming Carpenter	17x 25
R. R. Souers	28x 35

Mr. Spencer of the Winchester Gun company of St. Louis, a professional, broke 123 out of a possible 126, missing the 18th, 25th and 26th targets, then breaking 100 straight. Mr. Tindall of the Gun club, broke 48 out of a possible 50, and beat Mr. Spencer's first 50 targets by one target.

SHOULD ATTEND COURSE

Every Young Farmer is Urged to Investigate Work in Agricultural College at Columbia.

Work offered in the two-year winter course in the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri is exceedingly practical. While every young man in the state of Missouri who is already farming or who is thinking of going into farming is advised to take the full four-year course if this cannot be done, everyone is urged to investigate the work given in the two-year winter course.

Lawrence Ogden of Maryville has had the following experience to prove the practicality of the work. Soon after he had finished the two-year course, Ogden bought an eight-weeks calf at nominal price. The calf was put on a nurse cow and raised by methods taught in the course. He was kept until he had developed enough to show fully that he was an unusual animal, and then sold back into the same herd from which he came for $5,000, almost seventeen times as much as was paid for him.

The selection and development of live stock, together with the fattening of hogs and cattle for the market and the curing and butchering of them for home use is taught in this course with animals selected and bred especially for the purpose, and kept on the University farm at Columbia.

The man or boy who has had a great deal of farm experience can master this work so rapidly that after this instruction in stock judging students were able to go to the state fair last year and win first prizes in judging beef cattle and saddle horses.

The course begins November 1. For catalogs giving full particulars about it address Superintendent of Agricultural Short Courses, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM MAINE.

Campaign for State Election September 11 to Open This Week.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Portland, Me., Aug. 14.—The present week will see the opening of the speech making campaign among Maine voters in preparation for the state election on September 11. As there will be no test of strength between Democrats and Republicans in other states prior to November 7, leaders of both parties look upon this contest as a political index.

Both President Wilson and former Justice Hughes are expected to plead for their own support as candidates. Other speakers will be Democrats and Republicans of prominence from all over the country. Theodore Roosevelt will deliver at least one address for Mr. Hughes.

Although the Progressive party will have no candidates, the trend of individual Progressive sentiment is regarded as the most interesing factor in the situation. Both Republican and Democratic leaders profess confidence that they will obtain the bulk of the vote.

Oakley Gibbs and son, Oakley Gibbs, Jr., of Omaha, Neb., were guests Sunday of Elmer Barrock and family. Mr. Gibbs is a former Maryville boy and is now a grain man of Omaha.

Mrs. Will Spoonemore of Ravenwood wa scalled to Maryville Sunday night on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Tena Combs of South Mulberry street.

TO hold "its place in the sun," is the avowed purpose of a great nation's conflict. To hold "its place in the sun," is the object of every business in the great fight for industrial and commercial supremacy.
To be able to hold "its place in the sun," is the supreme test of an asphalt roof. It is the sun, not rain or snow, that plays havoc with a roof. If it can resist the drying out process of the sun beating down upon it, day after day, the rain or snow will not affect it except to wash it clean and keep it sanitary.
Certain-teed
Roofing
takes "its place in the sun" and holds it longer than other similar roofing, because it is made of the very best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with the correct blend of soft asphalts, and coated with a blend of harder asphalts. This outer coating keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying out process so destructive to the ordinary roof.
The blend of asphalts used by "The General" is the result of long experience. It produces a roofing more pliable than those which have less saturation, and which are, therefore, harder and drier.
At each of the General's big mills, expert chemists are constantly employed to refine, test and blend the asphalts used; also to experiment for possible improvements. Their constant endeavor is to make the best roofing still better.
The quality of CERTAIN-TEED is such that it is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). Experience proves that it lasts longer. Behind this guarantee is the responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers.

The General makes one third of America's supply of asphalt roll roofing. His facilities are unequaled, and he is able to produce the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.
CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate covered shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or outbuilding.
CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

REED PROPOSES RALLIES.

Senator From Missouri Suggests Series of Tent Meetings for the Campaign in This State.

The state committee is working out a plan to hold a series of great tent meetings in all parts of the state. It is proposed to secure at least four tents, each with a seating capacity of from three to four thousand. These tents are to be set up at points selected for the rallies.

It is expected that each rally will occupy all of the afternoon and evening; that the candidate for congress of the district; vandidates for state offices, and either Senator Stone or myself will be present. It is also expected that at each meeting some distinguished orator from outside the state will be secured. Arrangements are partially completed to secure the services of such men as Vice President Marshall, Senators James, Lewis, and Robinson, and in some instances members of the cabinet.

The local people in each instance will be expected to do all of the work necessary to secure a very large turnout, and to otherwise assist in organizing and carrying to a success these great gatherings.

Under the arrangement contemplated, there can be two great meetings held each day at widely different points of the state. While two of the tents are thus employed, the other two tents will be moved and set up at other places.

The campaign is going to be short and sharp. The Democrats of the various counties of the state ought to begin immediately taking the necessary steps to secure one of these great meetings, because the state committee will be compelled to make general plans and to do so in the very near future. If your people want to be put on the committee's list they ought to at once become active.

I, therefore, venture to suggest that you call the attention of the working democrats to this communication and that you at once get in touch with state headquarters which are now open at the Planters hotel, St. Louis, Mo. The chairman of the state committee and his assistants can give you detailed information.

Very sincerely,

JAMES A. REED.

RESUMED HIS WORK.

J. H. Miller, Wabash Brakeman, Who Was Hit by Fred James, Able to Go to Work Again.

J. H. Miller, a Wabash brakeman, who was slugged and seriously injured by Fred James on a train at Elmo, about eleven weeks ago, has resumed work. It will be remembered that Brakeman Miller was hit on the head with a bottle as he was assisting passengers off a train at the station in Elmo. He was taken to the St. Joseph Hospital in Omaha and given treatment. He later was brought to Moberly and given treatment in the Wabash hospital. The man who hit the brakeman is under bond for his appearance at a trial in the Nodaway county circuit court.—Moberly Democrat.

UDDER DEVELOPMENT OF COW

Sufficient Importance Not Placed on Dairy Characteristics by Dairy Cattle Owners.

Many owners of dairy cattle do not place sufficient importance on the purely dairy characteristics of the animals they keep and breed. One of the points often overlooked is udder development, although it would seem that this would be the first thing an intelligent dairyman would look for in the selection of a cow. While an occasional cow with a small, ill-shaped udder will give a good quantity of milk, such animals are merely the exceptions which prove the rule that good dairy cows should show good development of the milk organs.

The good udder is large but does not display its size by hanging in a low inverted conical shape. Such an udder does not add to the beauty and symmetry of the animal and too often its dangling, swaying motion in travel is a source of irritation. It cannot possibly be expected to give as good results as a blocky compact udder of equal size in each quarter and extending well to the front and rear. The teats should be of sufficient size to be grasped firmly while milking. They should be set squarely on the quarter and be of cylindrical rather than conical shape. The cow with a low hanging bag and conical-shaped teats is not a choice animal to milk and it will usually be found that she does not do well at the pail.

Parentage has much to do with the conformity of the cow's udder, and while the sire will influence this characteristic to a certain extent the function of the udder is not after his nature and the dam will have to be depended upon largely to perpetuate proper form in this regard. Practical experience will prove that a heifer calf will ordinarily have in a marked degree the external milk organ characteristics of her dam. It is therefore doubly desirable that in the selection of breeding stock close attention be paid to the udder development.

VARIETY OF FEEDS FOR CALF

When Animal Is Four Weeks Old It Can Get Along Very Well on Gruel Answers Purpose.

After a calf is four weeks old it can get along very well on little or no milk if you are short. Make a gruel out of a variety of feeds, say cornmeal, oil meal, middlings, bran, ground oats; mix them all together and cook a kettle of it, having about the consistency of gruel. At first feed a pint of this in three quarts of warm water, increase to a quart of the gruel.

In addition, give the calf clover hay and ensilage if you have it; in fact, any roughage you happen to have. Also begin to feed it cornmeal and ground oats as soon as it will eat.

SUMMER WORK IN THE DAIRY

Nothing More Unpleasant Than When Pastures are Short and the Flies are Troublesome.

At no time of the year is dairying more unpleasant work than during the time when pastures are short and the flies are troublesome.

Now is the time when it pays to have supplemental forage crops and to darken the stables and keep the cows inside during the hottest part of the day. The cold weather during the winter is less difficult to contend with than the hot sun and flies during the summer.

COWS REQUIRE MUCH WATER

Animals Should Have Access to Supply at Least Twice Daily—Well Water Is Best.

Milking cows require a much larger quantity of water than is necessary for growing animals. They should have access to a good clean water supply at least twice a day. The best supply is well water pumped into a tank or trough, failing this a running stream is best.

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

First of Series of Union Meetings Held There Last Night on Account Of Rainy Weather.

The first of the series of union Protestant services to be held this month was held last night in the Baptist church instead of the court house yard on account of the rainy weather. The Rev C. Emerson Miller, pastor of the Christian church, preached the sermon.

The Rev. William Moll Case, who has resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach the sermon at the union meeting next Sunday night. If the weather permits, the meeting will be held in the court house yard.

Mrs. Mary A. Phares left Saturday night for a visit of several weeks at places in Kansas and Illinois. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Louise Ray, of Decatur, Ill., who has been a guest at the Phares home for the past month.

Mrs. William Airy and daughter, Cosette, of Watson, spent Sunday in Maryville visiting the John Airy and Emery Airy families.

Miss Bertha Anderson spent the week-end at the home of her brother, William Anderson, at Bedison.

Saved by a Cookbook.

There is a story of a man, desperately ill, who, having passed the crisis of his ailment, needed only, so the doctors asserted, an incentive to recover. He had dire misfortunes and had lost all interest in living. Neither his business nor his motorcar nor his children nor his wife sufficed to lure him back to the trials of temporal existence. Then some inspired relative thought of the cookbook. She put it into the hands of the sick man as he lay withering on his pillow. He turned it over languidly; then he fluttered the pages with transparent fingers. Presently he asked to be propped up in bed. Before long he was whispering fervidly of what he was going to eat when he got well—those pig hocks with dumplings, hot waffles and sirup, schnittbohnen with sour sauce. What were rissoles and ramekins and bannocks? And why had he never known about toad in the hole? These were the sentiments that wooed him back to life.—New York Mail.

As You View the World.

The world in which a man lives shapes itself chiefly by the way in which he looks at it, and so it proves different to different men. To one it is barren, dull and superficial; to another rich, interesting and full of meaning. On hearing of the interesting events which have happened in the course of a man's experience many people will wish that similar things had happened in their lives, too, completely forgetting that they should be envious rather of the mental aptitude which lent these events the significance they possess when he describes them. To a man of genius they were interesting adventures, but to the dull perceptions of an ordinary individual they would have been stale, everyday occurrences. —Schopenhauer.

Clever Plants.

The cleverness of some plants is indisputable. A sundew, or fly eater, deceived by a piece of chalk, seized it in its tendrils, but upon discovering the fraud immediately withdrew them. A fly, held just out of its reach, did not tempt it to move, but as soon as it was brought a little nearer the plant prepared to take possession of it. Darwin showed that a begonia had a habit of searching for a hole to insert its tendrils into and even of withdrawing the tendril to insert it in another hole if the first proved unsuitable.

Nor is this power of selecting confined to any particular class. Climbers like the lianas will refuse to coil round a branch not strong enough to bear their weight.

Cunning of a Cat.

A cat once had the misfortune to break one of its forelegs and was carefully tended by its owner. One of the members of the family, a kind hearted old woman, was especially kind to the animal and gave it numerous extra delicacies. In due time the cat recovered, but it had the wit to see the connection between its broken leg and the solicitude of the woman and accordingly concealed the fact. When unobserved it ran about like any other cat, but on the approach of the tender hearted woman immediately began limping on three legs.

Giant Monument to a Child.

Mount Grace, in Warwick, Mass., seems to be in a way a giant monument to a little child. According to tradition, the Indians captured a Mrs. Rowlinson and her child. As the party were passing through the woods on their way to Canada the child died and was buried at the foot of the mountain. The child's name was Grace, and the mountain has been Mount Grace ever since.—Exchange.

During the Honeymoon.

"I weigh 130 pounds. How much do you weigh, Mr. Sweetey?"

"Together with my wife exactly 250 pounds."

"And you alone?"

"I don't know that. We are always weighed together."—Fliegende Blaetter.

NORTONI TO AID WILSON

Has Resigned as Judge and Will Give Time to the Support of the President in Coming Campaign.

Albert D. Nortoni resigned as judge of the St. Louis court of appeals to accept a place on the national Democratic campaign committee. Judge Nortoni was a Progressive candidate for governor of Missouri.

Judge Nortoni says:

"As between Hughes and Wilson there is only one man for the Progressives to choose, and that is Wilson. There is a large element of the Progressive strength in Missouri, who, without a presidential candidate to vote for, will support Wilson. After this fall's election the Progressive party proposes to re-organize as a party as it was before the last Chicago convention."

Nortoni has been on the bench in St. Louis twelve years. He was elected as a Republican.

Even the Tickets Are Fishes.

The tickets to the annual fish fry given by the Commercial club August 17 are made of red cardboard and are shaped like fishes. On them is printed the date of the "fry" and a few other necessary facts. The fish has a string attached to it, so that it may be worn as a tag in the button hole. So the fish fry begins when you buy a red fish ticket from the secretary of the Commercial club or some other salesman.
